The next meeting of Council will be held on Thursday 15th September 2016 commencing at 4.00pm in the Tambellup Council Chambers. Members of the public are welcome to attend all Council meetings.

FROM THE COUNCIL MEETING

- Council discussed projects funded by the Country Local Government Fund 2012-2013 funding allocation. Planned works at the Broomehill and Tambellup Halls, and the Broomehill Administration Office have been completed well within budget, and a decision was required to reallocate the remaining funds from these projects. In consideration of the strict criteria that is attached to this funding, Council determined to seek approval from the Department of Regional Development to reallocate $122,860 unspent funds to the Tambellup Pavilion upgrade project. Subject to approval, the total amount of funding allocated to the Pavilion upgrade from this source will be $317,749. The additional funds will assist in offsetting costs relating to the Western Power charge to upgrade the power supply to the site, and also reduce the amount of the loan that Council will raise.
- Council granted a rates concession to the Tambellup Business Centre Inc. for the 2016-2017 financial year.
- Council supported an application from the Broomehill Recreational Complex Inc. to the Department of Sport and Recreation CSRFF program, for funds to assist with an upgrade of lighting at the Broomehill Oval.
- Council granted approval to Greening Australia WA to collect native seeds within the Shire, subject to conditions.
- Council reviewed its Policy 4.1 - Road Construction and Maintenance - Minimum Standards. This policy sets out the engineering requirements for the construction and maintenance of Council's road network.

WORKS

And still the rain comes! We are pleased to report dam levels are high, with the Broomehill Town Dam full for the first time since it was extended in 2014. This is great news for the Broomehill Oval heading into summer.

The construction crew has been working on gravel patching on a number of roads that required attention, and the maintenance crew has been fixing bitumen edge breaks and potholes prior to the grading of shoulders. The maintenance graders have been working in the mid west part of the Shire working south, with the following roads graded: Flat Rocks Rd, Nookanellup Rd, North Nookanellup Rd, O'Neill Rd, Palomar Rd, Jam Creek Rd, Ngopitchup Rd, Birt Rd, Warrenup Rd, Grahams well Rd, Paul Valley Rd, Crosby Rd, Nymbup Rd and Hilder Rd. Some grading days were lost during the month due to heavy rainfall.

COUNCIL AGENDAS AND MINUTES

Agendas and Minutes from every Council and Council Committee meeting are available at the Shire Administration Offices and Tambellup Community Resource Centre, for perusal. These documents are available in alternative formats, on request, for people with disability.

Council Agendas and Minutes can be accessed online by browsing to www.shirebt.wa.gov.au and clicking on the "Our Shire" tab.

RESTRICTED AND PROHIBITED BURNING PERIOD

All residents of the Broomehill-Tambellup Shire are reminded that the RESTRICTED burning period commences on 19 SEPTEMBER 2016 and continues until 15 APRIL 2017 inclusive. During this time you are required to obtain a permit to burn before lighting any fires.

The PROHIBITED burning period commences on 1 NOVEMBER 2016 and continues through until 14 FEBRUARY 2017 inclusive. The lighting of fires during this period is prohibited, however if residents need to do PROTECTIVE BURNING during the Prohibited Burning Period they must first obtain a permit from a Fire Control Officer and then observe all the conditions of the permit. PROTECTIVE BURNING is to be carried out between the hours of 6.00pm and midnight on the same day. No Protective burning is to be carried out after December 20 2015. Permits to burn can be obtained from your Brigade Fire Control Officer, or the Community Emergency Services Manager (CESM), Cindy Pearce.

All residents should assess the fuel loads on their property, and take steps to reduce this risk well before summer. Although spraying and slashing of tall grass is an effective treatment for reducing fire risk, if it is done too late in the season the dried grass still presents as a hazard. For more information or advice on hazard reduction please contact CESM Cindy Pearce on 0417 071567.

TAMBELLUP SPORTS PAVILION UPGRADE

The site is a hive of activity at the moment. Retaining walls are being constructed along the tennis side and for the bowling green, and they certainly put a new perspective on the actual size of that green square we have been looking at on the plans (40m x 40m!) - and also how much fill will be required to bring the level up to the height of the Pavilion! By the time this edition of BT Times goes to print, the footprint for the building will have been pegged ready for footings, plumbing and the slab.

We are fortunate to have a great crew working onsite, and we look forward to the project unfolding without any major problems.

The bowling green retaining wall takes shape - one more row of bricks to go!

WELCOME TO OUR NEW CEO.....

We are pleased to welcome Keith Williams to the Shire of Broomehill-Tambellup. Keith will be taking over from Joanne Trezona as CEO from 1 September 2016.

Keith has worked in Local Government as well as the private sector, most recently at the Shire of Collie for nearly 4 years. He is a Town Planner by trade, with qualifications in management. At the Shire of Collie Keith has been predominantly responsible for planning, building and health issues, and has also been involved with emergency management, rangers and environmental projects.

Keith has spent most of his life in the bush, from Esperance to Kununurra, with a few stints in the city. He has a passion for regional development, and in Collie has been instrumental in seeing projects ranging from organics recycling projects and building fire stations to building mountain bike trails through to fruition.

Keith loves camping, hiking, photography and four wheel driving, and is looking forward to exploring more of the Great Southern region.

Daffodil Day

Tambellup Ladies Fundraising Event

On Friday the 26th of August eighty two ladies attended our annual Daffodil Fundraising Evening held in the Tambellup Hall. The evening involved a sit down meal created by our own amazing Chef, Craig Beacham, ably assisted by Erryn Beacham and Marie Sheridan. As always, the meal was superb and enjoyed by all. There were several traders who attended to give us some opportunities for early Christmas shopping, although CT's cupcakes really won't last, so I have made the ultimate sacrifice and devoured them already!

This year's theme was 'Wacky Wigs', with the aim of thinking about those ladies who decide to wear a wig after losing their own hair following chemotherapy treatment. There were many wonderful wigs on show with prizes being awarded to Bev (Peg) Taylor, Ella (Feathers) Bird and Kate (smell my hair) Oliver. Thank you to everyone who entered into the spirit of the night, it made the evening very colourful.

This year we were very fortunate to hear from one of our own, Monica Nazzari, as our guest speaker this year. She gave a very moving and thought provoking speech. During her speech she read the following poem, encouraging us all to live every day to the full without fear of what might come.

The Guest House - By Rumi

This being human is a guest house, every morning a new arrival.

A joy, a depression, a meanness, some momentary awareness comes as an unexpected visitor.

Welcome and entertain them all!

Even if they're a crowd of sorrows, who violently sweep your house empty of its furniture.

Still, treat each guest honourably. He may be clearing you out for some new delight.

The dark thought, the shame, the malice, meet them at the door laughing, and invite them in.

Be grateful for whoever comes, because each has been sent as a guide from beyond.

We were also asked to think about our needs should we be cast upon a deserted island. Some interesting answers were uncovered. Shelley (Peace and Harmony) Hameljack would take an interesting plant specimen as it would do double duty or both medicinal and leisure purposes. Beth Trezona was taking all the episodes of survivor. (We didn't like to burst her bubble and outline that a 'deserted' island usually implied a lack of technology and perhaps even electricity in order to watch said episodes.) Marie White would take a person - to eat!!!! (Run Michael, run.) Monica's choice, which was echoed by the majority of the room was that they would take Bear Grylls - bad luck husbands you didn't make the cut! Thank you Monica for your courage in letting us share your journey. Monica finished with a lovely thought about healing, inserted under photos on opposite page.

Thank you to everyone involved in making this annual Cancer Council fundraiser a successful event. We would like to particularly thank the following community members for your help in making the night happen; Craig and Erryn Beacham, Marie Sheridan for our awesome dinner. Tianie Calais from Shear Class Kojonup for the heads decorating the hall. Liz Reynolds and Louise Crisitnelli for the special door and raffle prizes. Karin Hilder for helping Jo at the door. Holly Farrell for the scrumptious punch. David Halden, Bec Hankinson, Richard Burrridge, Kristy Boyle, Ev Brown and Monica Nazzari for setting up the hall. Jen Burrridge for taking photos. Bev Taylor for selling lemons at the Post Office. Beth Trezona selling raffle tickets and Bev's lemons. Monica Nazzari for being our guest speaker and a special thank you to our long suffering husbands for helping with setting up, packing up and essentially putting up - with us!

This year we raised $1842 which takes our total for the last 8 years to just over $13 000, which is a pretty good effort for our little community. We look forward to seeing you again next year to help us raise further funds into Cancer research.

Carolyn Cunningham and Jo Taylor

Daffodil Day Fundraising Evening

*In the moment I let go
I stopped struggling and began healing
I stopped asking "why"
and began asking "where to now"
I stopped holding onto my pain and allowed my strength to shine through
In the moment I let go

We Welcome Women

What is "We Welcome Women"?

This is the brainchild of Monica Nazzari and something that was met with enthusiasm during Daffodil Night where the idea was unveiled. Women tend to take on a lot for others, whether it is for husbands/partners, children, aging parents or unwell family members. Many women put themselves last and often find it hard to ask others for help and also how to help others who might need support. Women are regularly told to take time out for themselves but it is difficult when we are pulled in so many directions and are isolated by distance. We all need someone to talk to, to listen when we need to vent, to have opportunities to share our thoughts, fears, dreams - basically just to talk!

The idea of "We Welcome Women", is to provide opportunities for women to get together at a variety of times, in a range of different locations, for a variety of reasons. It is not a club, not something you need to join, nor commit to, just a way to bring women together with the aim of providing companionship, fun, laughter, an ear to listen, a shoulder to cry on or just an excuse to get out of the house!

Here are a few of the ideas our Daffodil Night guests came up with;

- * Coffee/tea, cake dates
- * Garden tours
- * Picnic in the paddock
- * Walking mornings/afternoons
- * Yoga
- * Water aerobics at Gnowangerup
- * Sandalwood factory - gong and lunch
- * Group trips to shows/musicals/social events

More ideas can be seen in the CRC window soon, look for the "WWW" tree logo.

Do you have any ideas you would like to see included? We are not really sure how this will be driven, whether it will evolve on its own or if we will need a few individuals to be catalysts to begin with. If you would like to be included on a contact list for future activities please send through your email address and mobile phone number to Monica (nazzariw1@icloud.com) or Carolyn (paulncarolyn@bigpond.com) or through to the ladies at the CRC and they will pass them onto us. We will send through some guidelines as soon as we can, and send out the first invitation shortly. We hope you are as keen to embrace this idea as we are and look forward to seeing you soon.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

If parents want to give their child a gift, the best thing they can do is to teach their children to love challenges, be intrigued by mistakes, enjoy effort and keep on learning. That way their children don't have to be slaves to praise. They will have a lifelong way to build and repair their confidence.

For a full listing of events happening within the Hidden Treasures of the Great Southern region, pick up a copy of the Bloom Festival brochure - available at the Shire offices in Broomehill and Tambellup, the Tambellup CRC, Henry Jones Winery and Café and Tambellup Post Café. Alternatively, download your copy from the Hidden Treasures of the Great Southern website: www.hiddentreasures.com.au/bloom.

Just a note of caution - if you are going on a wildflower hunt, please be aware that at this time of the year with the days getting warmer, snakes are becoming more active. If you should encounter a snake, you should walk away quietly and leave him to his business. He has no more desire to interact with you than you do with him!

Mosquitoes are also extremely prevalent, with all the rain we have had recently. A good mosquito repellent, long pants and sturdy boots, a hat, sunscreen and water are necessities to enjoy your day in the bush.

Bushfire Season Compliance For Property Owners

Volunteer Fire Fighters would like to thank all property owners that complied with their legal requirements during the last fire season.

Managing the fire risks on your property assists volunteer fire fighters if a fire was to start by reducing the intensity and size of the fire.

With the wet winter we have experienced this year, this will increase the long grass on properties and add to the fire risk overall throughout the Region.

Property owners would have received with their Rate Notice a Fire Management Requirement Notice. This gives you the information on the standard of work required for your property to reduce the fire hazard over the summer period.

If you are using a contractor to complete this work please contact them now to ensure that the work can be completed by the due date of 1 November.

Compliance Officers will start inspections the first week of November and infringements will be issued to those that don't meet the requirements.

If you have any questions please contact your Local Fire Control Officer or the Community Emergency Services Manager Cindy Pearce on 0417 071 567

Spring locusts alert for landholders

Regional landholders in the grainbelt are advised to inspect properties for locust activity and be prepared to implement control activities during spring.

The Department of Agriculture and Food is predicting significant numbers of Australian plague locusts (APL) will build up during spring in eastern and southern parts of the grainbelt.

Department Invasive Species acting director Malcolm Kennedy said hatchings were expected to occur from September.

Surveys by the department have indicated moderate density hatchings could occur in parts of Ravens-thorpe, Jerramungup, Gnowangerup, Narrogin, Kulin, Yilgarn, Westonia, Mukinbudin and Nungarin shires. In these areas, some locust bands and loose swarms are expected to form.

Variable hatchings are also likely in other parts of the southern agricultural region and eastern Wheatbelt.

"It is vital that landholders control locusts by spraying paddocks at the right time to minimise damage to valuable pastures and crops where locusts emerge and feed," Dr Kennedy said.

"Locusts will hatch at variable times and landholders should be checking their properties from early September for signs of locusts to determine when to start spraying. Green crops and pasture are most at risk from locust damage."

Landholders who observed locusts on their properties in autumn need to be particularly vigilant as there are likely to be egg beds which will hatch in spring.

"The main activity will be seen in pastures - look for early hatchings and hatching egg beds in places where there are bare areas such as around dam banks, roaded catchments and along fencelines," he said.

While it is up to landholders to control locusts on their property, the department will assist with monitoring and surveys, and provide advice to landholders on the best control options and when to start spraying.

Landholders are also encouraged to use the department's PestFax Reporter app to report where locusts are found.

Registered chemicals are commercially available, and landholders are reminded of the importance of complying with label regulations, particularly withholding periods.

The department has information on locust identification, monitoring and control available from its website www.agric.wa.gov.au/locusts or by phoning its Pest and Disease Information Service on 1800 084 881.

Further information will be available from the department at the upcoming Dowerin and Newdegate field days.

Preparing Psychologically for a Disaster

Introduction

Most people in Australia live in areas of threat from natural disaster, whether it be from bushfires, floods, severe storms, droughts, cyclones or earthquakes. Pamphlets and brochures available from local council offices, emergency services and community groups provide helpful information on how to be prepared and what to do in an emergency situation to protect lives, home and property.

As well as information on physical and practical preparation, it is very helpful for people to know how to prepare psychologically before a natural disaster and how to cope emotionally during or after a disaster. Knowing ahead of time how a disaster situation might be experienced can help to decrease people's anxiety levels and overall psychological responses. Being psychologically prepared when a disaster is threatening can help people feel more confident, more in control and better able to make effective emergency plans. It can also help to reduce the psychological distress and longer-term mental health problems that can result from the trauma of being involved in disasters.

Of course, the first and vitally important part of psychological preparation for an emergency situation is to be physically prepared with a practised emergency plan. Making all the necessary physical preparations and having a household emergency plan that is well known and practised by everyone will increase the sense of being in control when the emergency begins.

This information booklet outlines the importance of being psychologically prepared and provides the steps to take for psychological preparation when a natural disaster is threatening.

The importance of being psychologically prepared

Being directly involved in any potentially life-threatening emergency situation can be genuinely terrifying. People often don't have prior experience of being in natural disasters or knowledge of just how stressful this can be. When people are under severe stress they are usually not able to think as clearly as usual and this can affect decisions and reactions. These are normal, although not always helpful, responses to a possibly life-threatening situation.

When people have a better understanding of their own likely psychological responses in natural disaster warning situations this can help them to feel more in control and better able to cope. Being psychologically prepared can assist people to think more clearly and reduce the risk of serious injury and loss of life or property. Being cooler, calmer and more collected can also be very helpful to family members and others who may not be as well prepared psychologically for what is happening. Of course, it is unrealistic to think that people can be fully emotionally prepared for such stressful and confronting situations as severe natural disasters. However, being psychologically prepared can help in coping with the stress of the unfolding situation and can help to reduce the distress after the disaster has passed. This does not mean that people can be fully prepared for anything that may happen or that being psychologically prepared means being emotionally 'bullet-proof'.

Being psychologically prepared also includes having realistic expectations that an emergency situation such as a bushfire or cyclone event can very quickly become unmanageable, unpredictable and life threatening. Being able to anticipate that such a situation could occur can help people to 'let go' when necessary and leave the situation to the expertise of emergency services.

What does being psychologically prepared involve?

Once the household emergency plan has been set and practised and the necessary physical preparations have been made, we can turn our attention to psychological strategies for managing the stress of a threatening natural disaster.

Psychologists use a term called 'stress inoculation' to assist people to prepare themselves psychologically for emergencies, which in other words means planning to be better protected from stress by working through the likely psychological reactions beforehand and learning strategies to cope. These strategies 'inoculate' people against being overly anxious or overwhelmed by their emotional responses, and will help prevent being caught up in unhelpful thinking in an emergency situation. Obviously this approach will work better with some disaster events that may be more frequent and to some extent more predictable, but the psychological principles can be applied for any emergency.

The way people feel in highly stressful situations is strongly affected by the way they cope with the signs of physical arousal (e.g., racing heartbeat, shortness of breath) and the thoughts that they are having (e.g., 'I can't cope'; 'We're going to get badly hurt'). These reactions and thoughts can make people feel anxious, hopeless or even angry, and while these feelings are understandable, they are not very helpful in an emergency situation. Being psychologically prepared means that these natural reactions to stress can be anticipated and managed to help people feel more in control and confident.

There are three main steps to being psychologically prepared for a threatening natural disaster:

- 1 Anticipate the anxiety and concerns that will arise.
- 2 Identify uncomfortable or distressing thoughts and feelings that may cause further anxiety.
- 3 Manage the responses so that the ability to cope remains as effective as possible.

A I M: The three steps to being psychologically prepared

1. ANTICIPATE that you will be feeling worried or anxious and remember these are normal, although not always helpful, responses to a possible life threatening situation
2. IDENTIFY what the specific physical feelings associated with anxiety are and whether you are having any frightening thoughts that are adding to the fear
3. MANAGE your responses using controlled breathing and self-talk so that you stay as calm as possible and can focus on the practical tasks that need attention

OCCASIONAL NOTES

The Eticup correspondent of the Albany Mail, dating a fortnight back, sends it the following information: - "A heavy thunderstorm passed over here at 2am on Monday morning the 4th March, which lasted about 2 or 3 hours, filling up all the tanks and a great many of the small waterholes, but at the North-East, it was still heavier than down here. At one of the tanks belonging to Mr Van Zuilecom, the flood washed the slabs covering it about a mile and a half down the creek, besides overflowing a great many of his other tanks, and wells which were quite dry. All the sheep left up Northwards are now again able to return. The thunderstorm and lightning which accompanied the storm was very loud and vivid, and the heaviest experienced in the district for some time past, but it seems to have cleared off now and fine weather set in."
